Having several awards under his belt, Narate Kathong is an artist that leaves you in awe. His artworks evoke a sense of peace and tranquility. The predominant art element in his works is through the built up of thousands to millions of spots upon spots, otherwise known as Pointillism. He employs the unique technique of Pointillism to breathe life into the lush greeneries. The cheerful and vibrant colors of his paintings capture viewer's attention, thereby rejuvenating and delighting the viewer. His paintings create a unique platform for the viewers to immerse into the majestic composition, as though being transported to a surreal, yet nostalgic ground.

His latest art collection titled "Seasons of Love" has further illustrated his exceptional talent in Pointillism art as well as his imaginative mind. These series of artworks have attracted tremendous attention in the international art scene since their first appearance in a solo exhibition in 2008.
