The ultimate goal of my life and art is "peace". I have struggled through a difficult period of life when moving away from a peaceful village to start work in a hectic city environment. Peace is an imaginary space which can be found in both reality and a person's mind. All of my creative works of art are from my imagination and meditation that leads to peace for humanity. Sittikorn works are inspired by the lines structure and forms of the construction building in a city. Through his unique representation in an abstract manner with vivid colour, light and shadow, his works provide a form of individual's daily reflection on how one can find peace internally in an urban society.
