Wipanee is a young and unquestionably talented artist. Her works are simply fuelled with energy and passions. Being an observant individual and passionate about objects with symmetry, she has transformed many of her life experiences into unique abstract artworks. Being a nature lover, she moved to stay in the city about seven years ago. In her most recent works on "Windows of Live", she expressed herself brilliantly on the fascinating city life which she observed quietly from the various windows in her residing apartment. Through all these "windows", she had seen laughter, tears, sadness, ugly, joy, and all aspects of human beings.

Artist's Comments:

My inspirations come from everything around my environment where it begins as a form of arts. I am particularly interested in geometry and texture which could be found in many buildings as well as architecture field. Over the past few years, I have created series of abstract artworks with ideas being generated from ray of sunshine, color of flowers, shadow of building, and even from the shape of my cup. As far as art is concerned, things can be transformed and represented in different ways, which shall not be confined by any boundaries. I am proud of every piece of my work which is a result of my sacrifice and endless effort. Most importantly, the greatest satisfaction of being an artist is the appreciation and smile on one's face when they see my artworks.
